Veterans' Writing Workshop (Cost: free)

N.B., This is a Drop in Class, no advance notice or reservation required

Creative Writing: Memoirs, essays, novels, short stories and/or poetry

There will be a regularly scheduled drop-in workshop for, "U.S. Military Veterans only," in the library. They will adapt to whoever shows up, according to the primary interests of the participants. The instructor/author/workshop facilitator, Dan O'Connor, a retired Danville Attorney and former U.S. Air Force Missile Launch Officer (1968-1972) and member of American Legion Post 246, has three published novels, along with published poems and a Golf & Restaurant Guide. Optional-in-class writing exercises may take place, according to class interest. Participants are invited to bring writing samples to class for potential group, or instructor, review and comment. Impromptu How-to lectures are anticipated. Any and all writing projects of any kind are welcome—memoirs, poetry, short stories, novels, essays or journals, etc., so long as they are accompanied by a U.S. Military Veteran. No prior writing experience is required or expected.
